

In January 2004, TransConstruct developed and placed on the market a foldable transport container. When folded, this box needs very little space, making it the perfect solution for economic return $\rightarrow$ $\rightarrow$ transport. Here is more information about the product.